THIS MORNING'S NEWS.

In New York yesterday Government bonds were quoted at 125 $\frac{1}{2}$  for 45, 120 $\frac{1}{2}$  for 45 $\frac{1}{2}$ ; sterling, \$4,884 90; 101 $\frac{1}{2}$  for 38, 100 for 45; silver bars, 111 $\frac{1}{2}$ .

Silver in London, 501 $\frac{1}{2}$ ; consols, 102 $\frac{1}{2}$  3 1/4; 5 per cent. United States bonds, 105 $\frac{1}{2}$ ; 120 $\frac{1}{2}$  4 $\frac{1}{2}$ .

Gold in London, 1,000 $\frac{1}{2}$ ; consols, 102 $\frac{1}{2}$  3 1/4; 5 per cent. United States bonds, 105 $\frac{1}{2}$ ; 120 $\frac{1}{2}$  4 $\frac{1}{2}$ .

Gold in San Francisco Mexican dollars are quoted at 87 $\frac{1}{2}$  to 88 cents.

On the regular call in the San Francisco mining districts there were very heavy sales of Ophir—amounting to some 8,000 shares—and the price fell to 41. The other Comstockas were better sustained, most of them recovering from 5 to 10 cents over previous rates. The Bodie stock continued steady. Bodie sold at \$2650 50; 105 $\frac{1}{2}$  to 110 $\frac{1}{2}$ . Otherwise the market showed no improvement.

Stocks remained fairly steady, though the All Gold in Washington, has been set for April 23.

PRECISELY WHAT IS WANTED.

Several gentlemen prominent in the Republican party, and who have more or less to do with its machinery, exclaim to us in tones of surprise and regret:

"What's the matter anyhow? What do you fellows want?"

What's the use of a primary? Why go to all the expense, when all that can be done by a county convention is to name men to go to the State Convention to select delegates to the National Convention? It's only a form. What on earth is the need of all the trouble and expense? It will create trouble and inaccuracy. Who is to pay all the cost? Primaries cost a good deal of money. The Central Committee can select good men. Why not let it do it? There is nothing in it, one way or the other?" To which we respond, "You fellows" want nothing, neither office, reward, promise, concession, nor any other thing under the sun within the gift of the Republican or any other party. But "you fellows" speak the demand of the mass of the Republican party when "a fair deal" is asked for. It has not on more than one occasion in the past been had. No committee has been created with power to do the work of the party that the party itself should do. If there is nothing in it, the committee certainly need have no hesitancy in calling a primary. They claim too much power now. They should never be given the discretion of issuing a call—it should be to their duty to do it. They are not the party; they have no right to formulate a platform for it. A city central committee of the party tried that last fall, and assumed to lay down the law in which the spring campaign should be conducted. In so doing the committee made a collective ass of itself, and there are none at this day to deny it. When the time came the City Convention made its own platform. What is wanted by the Republican party, if the solicitors require must know, is freedom of action. There was first, a fair primary; second, a convention; third, election of a committee; fourth, a delegation to the State Convention, chosen by the party in Convention represented. That delegation will cast a goodly number of votes, and be one of the agencies in formulating the platform of the party. It is therefore improper that the County Central Committee should name them. For its own sake the committee should not decide it. It should not wish to assume authority not expressly given it. As for the expense, the party bears that. Committee do not, as a rule, foot the bills. It is no concern of the committee if the members of the party desire to incur the expense. The committee is not the guardian of the party, but its servant. But there is still another reason for the primary, and that is, it will prevent threatened inaccuracy. The simple fact that there is a protest made against the proposed action of the committee is sufficient reason for the call. But let justice be done the committee. We do not believe a majority favors usurpation of authority; a few do, but that they will, we do not believe.

NEPOTISM.

An amendment has been made to the judicial salary bill in Congress prohibiting Federal Judges from appointing their relatives within the degrees of first cousin to positions in the Courts. This was eminently wise. To a considerable extent, Judges in some parts of the country have made their Courts hospitals for their own and their wives' relations. It is an abuse, and it is a sign of progress, that it is to be stopped. But the prohibition should, as a New York contemporary advises, be made far-reaching and take in a larger class of Federal officers—in fact, it would be wise to make its application general.

SLICKENS SCARE IN NEW YORK.

The sawmill proprietors on the upper Hudson have long been dumping hundreds of thousands of tons of sand and silt refuse annually into the stream. The New Yorkers have just discovered that the mass of matter thus deposited is greatly injuring the river, and causing sickness among the riparian dwellers. It appears that large quantities of it are carried away by high water, and helps to form bars in the river near Albany, the removal of which costs the State $50,000 a year. In 1867 the State paid $25,000 for the dredging of bars near Albany, no small part of which was sawdust. The dumping of sawmill refuse is ruinous to the Upper Hudson, because at many points below Glen's Falls and Feeder Dam it has clogged, choked and filled the channel, so that in summer a person can walk across it without wetting his feet. At Fort Edward an accurate survey has shown that sawmill refuse to a depth of eight feet, more or less, covers eight acres of the river's bed within the corporation limits of that village. For miles below Fort Edward in summer, when the water of the upper Hudson has fallen, little remains to mark the river's course save great bars of sawmill refuse, so completely has its channel been filled. Below Fort Edward are immense bars in places in the channel where the water was fresh to forty feet deep. The channel of the upper Hudson was clear and well defined before the dumping of sawmill refuse was so great. Nowadays, says one writer, bars of sawmill refuse are formed with great rapidity, because the volume of the upper Hudson is yearly growing smaller, its channel—what remains of it—narrower and shallower, and the dumping of sawmill refuse continues.

CONSUMPTION.

It will be remembered that last spring Dr. Koch reported the results of microscopic and other investigation and research by himself and associates upon the infatuation of consumption. He concluded affirmatively on that question. Subsequently the British Medical Association sent out a circular of inquiry to the physicians of Great Britain with a view of collecting the results of their observations. The report on the received has been made. There were sent in 1,068 replies to the circular. Of these 673 could give no opinion for lack of cases in which observations could be made. Every number of the British Medical Association has been sent to the State Convention to select delegates to the National Convention? It's only a form. THE MCGARRAHAN CLAIM.

A majority report of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives has been presented against the celebrated McGarrahane claim. This should give little faith that it will be decided in the party's favor, but we have little faith that it will. Two distinct minority reports have been filed, both practically recognizing McGarrahane's claim as set up in the Mulrow bill before the Forty-seventh Congress, and had no predisposing tendency to concur. Dr. Andrew Wilson has presented a circular of inquiry to the members of the party in the House of Representatives, to the effect that the McGarrahane claim is a mere fabrication, and that it is not true. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE

BURGLARY—Dave Davis' saloon, Fourth street, between J and K, was burglarized at an early hour yesterday morning. There is a little court back of the saloon, formed by the walls of adjacent buildings, the lowest of which was broken in, making it necessary for more than a dozen to be called out.

The burglar was well acquainted with the premises, descended by means of a rope from the lowest wall to the roof of a water-closet in the yard. The back door of the saloon was not locked, but fastened by a stick, with a notch in the end, placed through a hole in the door. The burglar was able to break out without difficulty and made his way to the saloon.

Yesterdays morning he was captured by the police, who had made a search of the saloon, and the name of the swindler being unknown, was charged with the crime of grand larceny and fraud.

Search has been made by officer Ainsworth and City Attorney Anderson to find the parties, but thus far they have eluded the police.

Yesterdays morning a dispatch was received by Assemblyman Reeves, of San Francisco, from the State Auditor, who advised that the boy had passed a forged order at his (Mr. Reeves') place of business in San Francisco, upon which he had succeeded in getting a silver watch and chain and some coins and jewelry. The game then closed, and the dealer "tipped," as he expressed it, $20 to the "roper," saying, "This was coming to you last night, and you began to be worried." The burglar responded by telling him he only wanted a watch. He applied to Chief Karcher, who consulted with the City Attorney, and the latter gave a complete description of the parties, who attacked the saloon, and was presented with some chips, which he placed upon cards with the names of the swindlers being unknown.
